

Angel

Words and Music by Gary Soloman

Hey Little angel you take my breath away
I've been dreamin of that time in Sante Fe
My memory is so strong
I know it will never fade
As we lay under the stars and by the way

I've been rolling along that dusty road
To find a way back home

Hey little Angel are you sleeping now
Under your covers while the full moons on the prowl
Hey little Angel your Daddy's on his way
Do you remember the time in the Hard Rock Café

Time takes us hostage to the way we are now
To the fate of the seeds that we plough

Hey little Angel by the little of the moon
A thousand miles away but I will be back soon
Hey little Angel your Daddy's on his way
Do you remember the time in the Hard Rock Cafe

I have been rolling along that dusty road
To find my way back home

Hey little Angel are you sleeping now
Hey little Angel are you dreaming now
Under your covers while the full moons on the prowl
Hey little Angel by the light of the moon
